Financial Responsibility and FERPA

- Electronic Authorization (Financial Responsibility Agreement)
  - Student's consent to the agreement regarding his/her student account for educational services while at Benedictine College
  - Required – first document the student will see when accessing his/her tuition statement
- Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)
  - Federal law that protects the privacy rights of student education records
  - This right transfers from parent to student when the student enters college
  - Benedictine College has three ways students may grant permission for college officials to communicate with parents
    1. RavenZone Proxy User – View academic & financial aid info
    2. TouchNet Authorized User – View billing, submit payments
    3. FERPA Waiver- paper form student completes in Registrar's Office

Both require student action to activate

TouchNet Authorized User

- Allows you to have a direct link to view your student's billing, submit payment, enroll in payment plans, etc.

RavenZone Proxy User

Link: Benedictine.edu/proxyuser

- Student opts to give users permission to view grades, course schedule, financial aid information, satisfactory academic progress, and view general notification

Once classes begin, the student becomes Benedictine College's primary point of contact
